

HARRIS

Student Video Surpasses 25K Views!

The 3:50 minute documentary on “Life at Harris Institute” created by students in Kathleen Farley’s ‘Digital Culture’ course has surpassed 25,000 views on YouTube. The short film was planned, shot, edited and scored by students with no advance warning in one hour using only the equipment they brought to class (laptops, cellphones, etc.). Says Farley, “Limitations can provide focus and spur remarkable creativity”. To view the “Life at Harris!” video click here.

New Pro Tools Lab

The new second floor Pro Tools Lab features 10 fully equipped Pro Tools HD workstations for two new courses taught by Shahab Mobasher, an Honours Graduate of Harris Institute’s Audio Production Program who earned a BA(Hons) in Popular Music and a Master’s Degree in Sound Production at Edinburgh Napier University. Mobasher has the 2nd most Pro Tools HD9 Certifications in Canada (Expert Music, Operator Post, Operator Music & Operator Venue 2.8).

Pilchner on Another Cover!

Martin Pilchner’s design for Toronto’s ‘Revolution Recording’ is featured on the cover of the current issue of Professional Sound magazine. It was on the cover of Mix Magazine in June. Pilchner is a five-time TEC Award ‘Studio Designer of the Year’ nominee and the Associate Director of the Audio Production Program (APP) at Harris Institute. He has taught Studio Design, Acoustics and Computer Science at Harris Institute since 1989. To see Pilchner’s studio designs click here.

Thank You Guest Lecturers

Harris Institute thanks this term's contributors to the 'Guest Lecture Series' hosted by Bob Roper. (Left to Right) Amin Bhatia (Composer/Sound Designer), Michael Chambers (Owner, Catherine North Studio), Cameron Britton and Richie Nieto (Sound Designers, Ubisoft), Heather Adamo (Head of Music Supervision and Licensing, Vapor Music), Eric Alper (Director of Media Relations, eOne Music), Perry Gilman and Jason Furman (S.L. Feldman & Associates).

The 2012
Harris Institute
Graduation & Awards
Dinner

at

Hugh's
ROOM

Grad at Hugh's Room

The 2012 Harris Institute Graduation & Awards Dinner will take place at Toronto's renowned Hugh's Room on Saturday, December 1st. The event will include an 'After Party' featuring 'The Belle Regards' (Melanie Hilmi from Ontario, David Poulin from Saskatchewan, Mitch Thomson from Alberta and Matt Kingsley from Quebec) who met in the Audio Production Program in November 2011. Current students and former graduates are invited to the 'After Party' at 9:00PM.

Students in RIM Video

Audio Production Program students Marlon Rosenbaum and Jason Clifflen played bass guitar and drums on Research In Motion's 'BlackBerry Is Going To Keep On Loving You' video. The music video premiered at the 'BlackBerry Jam Americas' on September 25th in San Jose, California and has surpassed 370,000 views on YouTube. This is the 2nd RIM video students have appeared in. To view the video based on REO Speedwagon's song click here.

Grads in Master's Degrees

Harris Honours grads Warren Hutton and Justin Chung are currently working on their 'dissertations' for the MA Music: Innovation & Entrepreneurship at the University of the West of Scotland and APP/AMP Honours grad Alex Templeman has started the Master's Degree in Sound Production at Edinburgh Napier University. APP/AMP Honours grad James Parnell has just graduated 'with distinction' (2nd best in class) from the MA in Sound Production at Napier.