

THANKS &
CONGRATS

DECEMBER 2007

ROCK-ENROLL.CA

Neil Muncy

Wieslaw Woszczyk

Congratulations Neil Muncy for being presented with the Audio Engineering Society's highest honour, The Fellowship Award, at the 123rd AES Convention in NY City.

He received the award from Audio Engineering Society Past President Wieslaw Woszczyk with record producer Phil Ramone and mastering engineer Bob Ludwig.

Muncy has contributed to over five hundred recording facilities worldwide and teaches Electronics Principles at Harris Institute online from his home in Markham.

Thank You Martin Atkins (Public Image Limited, Killing Joke, Ministry, Nine Inch Nails, Pigface, Murder Inc., Brian Brain and founder of Invisible Records) for an insightful and inspiring presentation at Harris Institute.

"Martin is an astute and compelling punk businessman," says the college's John Harris. "He presented valuable concepts in a language understood by all." Atkins' new book "Tour:Smart" is receiving rave reviews, including "This is not advice, this is the Holy Grail" - Kraze. For more information visit www.tstouring.com

Martin Atkins

Bob Roper

Terry Brown

Doug McClement

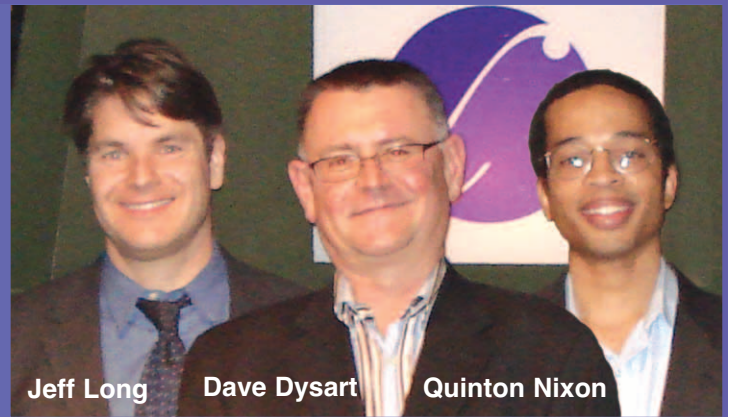

Congratulations Bob Roper & Doug McClement, Recording Arts Management and Producing /Engineering Program Chairs & Terry Brown, Production Applications Instructor for inaugurating the faculty exchange with the University of Paisley in Glasgow, Scotland.

Paisley Course Leaders Alan Dumbreck and Jim Prime will lecture at Harris Institute in early 2008. Nine Harris graduates are currently earning BA Degrees at the University of Paisley and twelve students from Paisley will complete work placements in Toronto this summer.

Thank You Quinton Nixon (Solid State Logic Partnership Manager), Dave Dysart (President, HHB Canada) and Jeff Long (VP Marketing, Long & McQuade) for supporting Harris Institute's installation of the award winning SSL AWS 900+ console and SSL X Logic X-Rack.

"Support from the music industry is why the college has thrived", says Harris. "From over 2,000 guest lecturers to companies participating in Internships and hiring graduates, the Canadian music industry has enabled us to help thousands of students realize their dreams."

Jeff Long Dave Dysart Quinton Nixon

Congratulations to the 2007 Harris Institute Graduating Class who received Diplomas & Awards at the Berkeley Church in Toronto on Sunday, November 4th.

Hollie Sackett (RAM - 91.66%) and Graeme Fleming (PEP - 91.93%) were the Valedictorians and won "Scott Richards Music Industry Awards for Academic Excellence".

Full time one year Diploma Programs start on March 24th, July 14th and November 10th, 2008.

For more information visit www.rock-enroll.info

Thank You Guild of Canadian Film Composers and Academy of Canadian Cinema and Television for participating with the OMDC, SAC, MMF, CIRPA, CMPA, UMAC, OCFE, Harris Alumni and Music & Film in Motion in Harris Institute's new online and weekend PDP programs.

The schedule of weekend PDP courses with Bursaries (50% tuition discounts) for members of participating organizations will be announced in Jan/08. An easy to complete online survey of courses being considered is available till Dec. 31 at pdpsurvey.harrisinstitute.com

THE GUILD OF CANADIAN
FILM COMPOSERS

ACADEMY OF CANADIAN
CINEMA AND TELEVISION
ACADÉMIE CANADIENNE DU
CINÉMA ET DE LA TÉLÉVISION

THE INVIGILATORS

Congratulations to "The Invigilators" (Harris Faculty) for an astounding performance with lasers and strobes at The Berkeley Church on November 4, 2007.

Front Left: Martin Pilchner (Studio Design), Mark McLay (Studio Orientation), Doug McClement (Producing /Engineering), Chris Munro (Studio Manager). Back: Yuri Gorbachow (Audio Post), Fergus Hambleton (Production Planning), Deryck Roche (Contemporary Music Production) and Don Garbutt (Sound Synthesis). Bio's of 68 faculty members are at harrisinstitute.ca